

The Sneaky Fox – Reading Assessment Record

Level of this Pack:

Old National Curriculum (England): 1c

New National Curriculum Level (England): Reception Secure/Year 1 Emerging

Book Band: Yellow

PM Benchmark Level: 6, 7 & 8

Reading Recovery Level: 6, 7 & 8

Reading Age: 5 1/2

More Reading Assessment Records.

Did you like this resource? Don't forget to review it on our website.

classroomsecrets.com

The Sneaky Fox

Duck had a new computer.

“Can you help to keep my password safe?” he asked Pig.

“Yes,” said Pig.

“Think of a special word nobody will guess.”

Duck met Frog.

“Can you help to keep my password safe?” he asked.

“Yes,” said Frog.
“Keep it in your head and don’t write it down.”

Duck met Fox. “Can you help to keep my password safe?” he asked.

“Yes,” said Fox.
“Tell it to me and I will help you keep it safe”.

classroomsecrets.com

The Sneaky Fox – Reading Assessment Record – Text

“Stop!” said Pig and Frog. “Don’t ever tell anyone your secret password!”

Goodbye, sneaky
Fox!

Duck had a new computer. “Can you help to keep my password safe?” he asked Pig. “Yes,” said Pig. “Think of a special word nobody will guess.” Duck met Frog. “Can you help to keep my password safe?” he asked. “Yes,” said Frog. “Keep it in your head and don’t write it down.” Duck met Fox. “Can you help to keep my password safe?” he asked. “Yes,” said Fox. “Tell it to me and I will help you keep it safe”. “Stop!” said Pig and Frog. “Don’t ever tell anyone your secret password!” Goodbye, sneaky Fox!

Notes:

The Sneaky Fox – Comprehension Check

Retrieve: Who did Duck ask to help him? Pig, Frog and Fox

Vocabulary: What is a password? A secret word to make sure no one else can use your computer.

Inference: Who wanted to trick Duck? Fox

Authorial Intent: What lesson does the author want you to learn from this story? To keep your password secret and not share it with anyone.

Prediction: What do you think Duck says to Pig and Frog? Answers must make sense and be relevant to the text, e.g. He will say “thank you” to them for keeping his password safe.