There is quite a lot to do here, do as much as is right for you and your child. You do not need to practise all the sounds and all the words every day but try to do them all over the week. Feel free to repeat the same lesson the next day.

You could print out letters or words to practise with but you could also cut up boxes from cereal, tea bags or similar and write a sound or a word on the plain inside of the box. Then you can put the sounds together to make real or alien words. The words can be put together to make sentences, adult or child can do this for each other. Older brothers or sisters could join in.

Countdown - time your child for 60 seconds, see how many of the following words they can read in that time. Record the number of words they read, and see if next time they play they can beat their score. Each time you play you could start from a different place.
